TEN PAGES.

EVERY WOMAN IN FAYETTE COUNTY OF LEGAL AGE WILL BE GIVEN CHANCE TO VOTE

Assessment of Newly Made Citizens Will Be Started Monday.

ALL MUST PAY SMALL TAX

Uniform Assessment of $100 Is Agreed Upon, on Which County Tax, for Voting Purposes, Will Be 75 Cents. Personal Registration Is Required.

The county commissioners are at work on a plan that will make it possible for every woman in Fayette county who is 21 years old or over to cast her vote at the fall election, November 2, if she so desires.

In a decision every woman in the county is to be assessed the commissioners are ranging to have the county assessors in Connellville and Uniontown (third class cities) and the registrars and what assistants they may need, in the boroughs and townships assess all women of voting age within the required time 60 days before election. This work will probably start Monday (though the commissioners were still awaiting instructions from Harrisburg said to be on the way).

It was said at the commissioners' office that it might be arranged to have the assessors receive the county tax required to make one eligible to vote, to be paid to the regular collectors and confusion that would probably ensue.

In districts outside of Connellville and Uniontown it is necessary for women to be assessed and pay their taxes in the two cities however they must appear personally at the voting places on three days that have been set apart for the purpose for men and women. The days are Thursday, September 2, Tuesday, September 14, and Saturday, October 2. These are the days on which male voters must be registered. Those who do not register or who are not privileged to vote.

The commissioners have decided to place women on an equal taxation basis for the first election. The occupational assessment will be $100 on which a tax of 75 cents must be paid before one will have the privilege of voting. Under the law no citizen is to be assessed a tax without having paid tax within two years and this will apply to women as well. Women 21 years of age may vote for the first time on age or without paying tax. All that is necessary for them is that they be registered.

If a woman will be permitted to vote there are some conditions to be met.

First, she must be a citizen of the United States, either native born or naturalized.

Second, she must have been a resident of the state at least one year.

Third, she must have been a resident of the district in which she seeks to cast her ballot for at least 30 days, preceding the election.

Fourth, she must be 21 years old or above.

Fifth, she must have been a taxed and paid a county or state tax within 30 days of the election. In order to pay a tax she must have been placed on the assessment roll.

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 20.—Arrangements were being made in the office of County Treasurer Joseph C. Armstrong to expedite the registration of tentative women voters for the November election. Tax blanks were being prepared as also were cards bearing instructions to women voters regarding registration procedure after they have been assessed and taxed, said.

ASSESSORS OF THE COUNTY SUMMONED TO UNIONTOWN

Will Be Given Instructions Relative to Enrollment of Women for Voting Purposes.

Postcards were mailed by the county commissioners of Fayette county to day to all assessors and registrars in the county to report in Uniontown immediately to receive instructions relative to assessment of women for the fall election.

The assessors will be asked to instruct women in whom is required for them to enjoy the right of franchise in November.

NO FURTHER LEGISLATION IS NECESSARY

Federal Amendment Renders Inoperative Woman Suffrage Restriction, Attorney General Says.

HARRISBURG, Aug. 20.—The 19th amendment rendered nugatory any provision in our state constitution or law in relation to restricting the right to male citizens of which is a part of an exercise of that right by women, says Attorney General William O. Schaffer in an opinion directed to Governor William C. Strouss in which he holds it is not necessary to enact additional legislation to qualify women to vote after passage of the federal suffrage amendment.

Mr. Schaffer said the 19th amendment nullified any constitutional or statutory provisions relating to any one of the right of suffrage on the ground of race color or previous condition of servitude, and the 19th operates in like manner as to sex. The effect of the opinion is that women may now be registered as voters and assessed for payment of taxes.

The amendment is held to be self-executing when promulgated and to require no further legislation.

It is urged that women be diligent to see that they are registered or enrolled and assessed. The situation says Mr. Schaffer is unique in the history of the state. County assessors are directed to see that women are registered or enrolled and that they are assessed and pay tax, because Mr. Schaffer has said of his opinion the right to vote at the general election in November is vested in all the women of the state who possess the necessary constitutional qualifications and who pay a county tax and are enrolled and registered.

AUTOMOBILING AND PUBLIC SENTIMENT

The distressing tragedy which occurred in Race street Wednesday evening, and the record of the kind within a few weeks, all too fully confirm the statements made in these columns a few evenings ago with respect to the alarm the public is experiencing at the increase of the motor menace.

While many such fatalities result from what are apparently accidental causes, the public is coming more and more to believe that they are to a very large extent preventable. Owners and drivers of cars will not deny that carelessness on the part of drivers is responsible for the majority of such accidents. Quite as justly must pedestrians be charged with lack of safety precautions as a contributing cause of many accidents. So also are parents blameable for failure to properly warn their children of the dangers arising from playing in the streets or taking other risks in close proximity to running automobiles.

Without attempting to fix the blame on individual responsibility in such cases, the public is beginning to regard facilities of this character as one of the broad consequences of the rapidly growing use of motor driven vehicles, and the speed mania and indifference to the safety of others which have seized a large proportion of drivers.

Even if drivers keep the speed of their cars within the legal limits, which comparatively few of them do, there are circumstances and conditions under which the motorist is all too great. This was forcibly illustrated by the accident of Wednesday evening. If, as the driver asserts, his car was traveling at the rate of only 10 miles an hour, that speed was dangerous in the locality as the results so unfortunately demonstrated.

Whether the actual rules may have been too lax, or whether the character of the car was broken by impact upon the victim and her skull crushed, that the speed of the car been such that its momentum would have been very much less, and the driver able to quickly control the car's movements, the result might have been only a slight temporary injury instead of a fatal one.

Every automobile driver knows that in the summer months the streets of the large cities are more or less used as playgrounds by the children. They also know that preventing such use is practically impossible. These things being true, every driver of common sense, to say nothing of the obligation to avoid injury to say nothing, ought, therefore, to prompt legal drivers to drive their cars with absolute compulsion, rather than to dart out from unexpected places at any moment. Even then it may not be possible to wholly prevent accidents, but if they do occur there is less likelihood that they will be of as serious a nature as they would be if run at a rate of speed that would require several car lengths within which to stop the car.

Residents of the South Side have well aware that Race street has been used as sort of a speedway by reckless and irresponsible motorists. That accidents have not happened earlier and in greater number has been due to a rare good fortune, not to recreation taken to prevent them. The same is proportionately true of other sections of the city and of other cities and towns in the country. In these conditions are accounted to reveal it is a question of time, until more lives will be sacrificed.

That the loss of life throughout the country is becoming so appalling, and is so many instances is the result of the speed at which motorists are driven. It is subjecting automobilists to a severe indictment as the direct and immediate cause of more fatalities than all of the industries combined, the fact that the past year has been estimated at 15,000. This is a heavy death toll for the country, and it is man's desire to prevent such loss of life.

It is not to be denied that the loss of life through such accidents is a very real and serious matter. It is not to be denied that the loss of life through such accidents is a very real and serious matter. It is not to be denied that the loss of life through such accidents is a very real and serious matter.

The Poles are doing very well, thank you.

There are prospects of a big apple crop in Pennsylvania which may also be taken as a certain prospect of big profits.

Lloyd George's law for breaking up the great estates in England is operating in Pennsylvania, and the result is that the new modern already have vision of becoming kind burning themselves.

It isn't so far from the truth to say that the new modern already have vision of becoming kind burning themselves.

The Indiana of Wednesday evening's tragedy should have a salutary effect, but it will soon be forgotten. Children will quickly lose their timidity about playing in the streets and automobiles will cause as quickly yield to the temptation to "step on the gas" when traveling over what is about the best running ground in the city. Without the immediate loss of control of some kind, which at present seems lacking, there is to be no real change in the present conditions—until another fatality.

Bryan seems to be pretty tight.

Even if a Republican Pa. will not in all cases vote, the front porch campaign is a success. Depends on the candidate and the hour at which the session adjourns.

The Poles are carrying their front porch campaign to the rear porch of the Senator.

WEST VIRGINIA

STATE FAIR SET FOR LABOR DAY

Will Be a Big Show, Writes a Former Member of The Courier Staff; Has Big Race Program.

Harry Ulmer Tibbels of Wheeling, W. Va., a former member of The Courier staff, writes that the West Virginia state fair in which numerous Connellsville and Fayette county people are interested will be held in Wheeling in September beginning on Labor Day.

"The racing card this year," writes Mr. Tibbels, "will be the greatest this institution has put on in the 10 years the association has been holding fairs in Wheeling."

The fair will open on Labor Day which will be known as Derby Day from the fact that all speed events will be running races are over a hundred thoroughbreds will face the barrier during the week. There will be 14 running races during the fair.

Another feature of the fair will be the automobile races on Saturday, while auto polo games will be played in front of the grandstand each afternoon and evening numerous vaudeville, bicycle and hippodrome stunts going put on to relieve the tedium of waits between races.

While it is likely that the races and speed events will be the principal attractions to the fair for the "sporting people of your city," I can assure you that there will be wonderfully high-class agricultural horticultural and live stock exhibits while the big concrete swimming pool 250 feet long and capable of accommodating 1,500 bathers at a time is a very attractive feature.

Mr. Tibbels is advertising, through the Store & Thomas the largest department store in West Virginia and will be glad to give all friends from the city who visit Wheeling.

The House Famine.
Morris Hillquit was discussing in Albany the housing problem in New York which so many New York landlords have been practicing.

And despite this profiteering, he said, houses and apartments are in greater demand than ever. Well-to-do tenants have their belts rung two or three times a day by total strangers who anxiously inquire if by any chance they think of leaving soon.

"I heard of a chap who entered a newspaper office recently and said to the girl behind the counter:

"I want to advertise in your paper for a house."

Yes, how many insertions? said the girl briskly. We make a reduction for space taken by the year and we have also a very reasonable three-year contract that would probably suit you better still."

Sure Thing.
"It was a little umbrella," said the hotel boarder, "and I had a long rosewood handle that was hooked in the end."

"That's nothing," said the hotel clerk. "I had an umbrella with a gold handle once and it was hooked in the end too."

The Reason.

She—Why do people have to keep so quiet when they go fishing? He—Because each one must fish with bated breath.

TWENTY MILLION TONS OF SOFT COAL IN STOCK ON JUNE 1

A Decrease of 4,000,000 Tons, 17 Per Cent, Within Three Months.

CURTAILED BY STRIKES

In the Miners Last Fall and the Switchmen This Spring, Production Has Been Insufficient to Meet Demand, Necessitating Draft on Stocks

Commercial stocks of bituminous coal in the United States on June 1, 1929, are estimated at 20,000,000 net tons by F. G. Tryon, geologist in charge of coal and coke statistics of the United States Geological Survey. This was considerably less than the stock carried on October 1 of the year 1916 and 1917, and was very much less than the stock accumulated at the close of 1918. In the three months from March 1 to June 1, 1929, stocks decreased 4,000,000 tons, or 17 per cent.

These figures are estimates which attempt to account for coal in the hands of railroads, industrial consumers, public utilities and retail dealers. They do not include coal in the cellars of domestic consumers, coal in stock for steam ship fuel or coal in transit. The stocks on the docks are not included because they are properly regarded as coal in transit and because natural they vary greatly from winter to summer.

Information available concerning probable stocks of coal in the past is summarized in net tons in the following table:

Date	Net Tons
October 1, 1916	24,000,000
October 1, 1917	24,000,000
July 1, 1918	26,000,000
October 1, 1918	26,000,000
Day of the Armistice	26,000,000
January 1, 1919	26,000,000
April 1, 1919	26,000,000
June 1, 1920	20,000,000
June 1, 1929	20,000,000

The figures for 1916 and 1917 are less accurate than those for later dates but indicate that in those years the consumption of the country had on hand in the fall from 2,000,000 to 3,000,000 tons of coal. By the middle of 1918, the next date for which figures are available, the effort to increase production and build up stocks to a little under 40,000,000 tons. Throughout the summer and fall of 1919 production continued at a rate far in excess of current consumption and stocks increased rapidly, reaching on October 1, 1919, 50,000,000 tons, more than double the figure on that date for the two years preceding. On the day of the Armistice commercial stock in the United States were at the neighborhood of 33,000,000 tons.

In the progress of increased production the Fuel Administration had in view the prevention of a repetition of the fuel shortage of the first winter of the war and the provision of a reserve against the expected decrease in output as the draft made further inroads on the number of mine workers. The stocks thus built up proved to be much greater than were needed for the slackening industrial activity which followed the Armistice, especially in view of the mild weather during the winter of 1919-1920. For months consumers drew upon their reserves to meet current requirements and the store of coal above ground diminished to 27,000,000 tons on January 1, 1920, and to approximately 40,000,000 tons at the opening of the coal year 1920-1921.

What happened between April 1, 1920, and March 1, 1929, the date of the next stock taking is not known precisely, but from other facts it is apparent that stocks continued to decline throughout the first half of the year 1920. They probably reached the low point in August of that year and thereafter began to rise again, the rate of increase being markedly accelerated in the last weeks before the great bituminous coal strike of November 1. It is clear from the way in which the country withstood the effects of the strike that reserves at the outbreak of the strike were considerable. It is equally clear that by the close of the strike reserves above ground were low and that in the territory between the Mississippi and the Hudson including the Southern Peninsula of Michigan they had been reduced to the minimum. Progress in rebuilding stocks after the strike was made possible by the large production of January and February, 1920, as shown by the census of stocks on March 1, 1920, the reserves were still much depleted and below the pre-war level of October, 1919.

From March to June 1 the diminished production resulting from the switchmen's strike was insufficient to meet the demand and as a consequence further drafts upon stocks were made, particularly in the northern section of the country. Total commercial stocks declined still more and on June 1, 1920, reached the level of 20,000,000 tons.

DECLINE IN SPOT COKE PRICE HAS BEEN LESS THAN EXPECTED

Improved Car Supply is Without Noticeable Effect on the Market.

SHIPMENTS ON CONTRACT

Are Heavier But Offerings Have Not Increased; Some of the More Urgent Buyers Withdraw from Market; Minimum Decline 50c, Average More.

From The Weekly Courier.

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 18.—The increased car supply of the past few days has not softened the spot coke market as much as was expected. The actual decline in prices, as recorded by sales, is trivial, up to date the lowest price at which spot furnace coke has sold seems to be $17.50.
At no time has the market been quotable at much if any above $18 as a minimum, although there have been times when there were scarcely any sales at $18 while purchases were being made freely at $18.50, with $19 occasionally done. Thus the minimum of the market has declined only about 50 cents, although the average of the market has declined considerably more. Nor has $17.50 been the weak of the market this week, since yesterday some coke sold at $18. Today one of the buyers who paid $18 refers to the transaction as "a mistake" though it is quite a question whether he could have secured the same quality at $17.50.

In the case of foundry coke there has been no regular decline in prices, but there has been some improvement in the quality of coke obtainable at a given price. Right along there has been some coke sold as "foundry" coke at $19, though as a matter of fact it was not real foundry coke, not being selected as all. Now one might be able to secure real foundry coke, though not of particularly good grade, at $19, while at $19.50 one can pick up a better brand than he could a fortnight ago. The spot market is quotable as follows:

Furnace coke, $17.50-$18.50
Foundry coke, $19.00-$19.50 In some quarters it is claimed the withdrawal of some urgent buyers is a greater factor directly operating upon the spot market than is the increase in offerings. As a matter of fact the offerings of spot coke have not greatly increased. The better car supplies have resulted in there being somewhat heavier shipments on contract.

An influence apart from the car supplies has been the cleaning up of much of the extra coke at route. Some Valley furnace report that now they have only about the normal quantity en route, while recently they had double the normal or more than double the normal. The clean-up has resulted in particularly heavy deliveries to such furnaces, but these heavy deliveries are of course only temporary, so that consumers who withdraw from the spot market may have to enter it again.

The common talk is that a further slight improvement in car supplies will uncover a labor shortage, whereby production of coke would not increase beyond a certain point, no matter how good the car supplies. Where the point lies is variously estimated, but there appear to be few operators who think the production in the Connecticut and Lower Connellsville region can get up beyond the 250,000 tons a week at The Courier reports were recording just before the transportation situation went to the bad last April.

Some Pittsburg district coal operators fear there will be serious labor troubles on account of the fresh demands of the miners, while others think the matter can be adjusted without much friction. In addition to the demands of the day men for an advance of about $2 a day there is now a demand on the part of the tonnage men for an advance. At the meeting in Cleveland last Friday and Saturday the operators offered to make some concessions but the offer was not accepted and a good prediction seems to be that President Wilson will be asked to recall his coal commission for a further adjustment.

The Pittsburg district coal market has softened a trifle in the matter of Lake coal, for which $7.00 to $7.50 had been obtainable for a while, has softened being as much as $5.00. The softening is as much as $5.00. The market for the shipments remains, in general, at about $10 to $12 depending on grade of coal and destination.

The pig iron market, which had been hardening for some time, has displayed rather a sharply advancing tendency in the past week. Foundry iron, which has led the way right along in the various advances of the past nine months, is still in the position of leader. Philadelphia, Buffalo, Cleveland and Chicago districts all show advances in foundry iron. In the Valley market foundry iron has undergone a sharp advance, sales that are easily of sufficient importance to make the market being recorded at the even figure of $50. Valley furnace.
The total turnover in the past week has been small, compared with the tonnages that used to move as the market advanced, but if the transactions are light they are in relation to the offerings, which are very small, while the demand if not heavy is at least in excess of the offerings. In several cases of sales made the tonnage sold was smaller than the amount the buyer originally inquired for. Bessemer and basic will probably sell at higher prices when there is any activity, but since far there have been only occasional sales, chiefly of little prompt lots, at higher than the figures formerly regarded as representing the whole market. The market in general is now quotable as follows:
Bessemer, $17.00-$18.00
Basic, $18.00-$19.00
Foundry, $20.00-$21.00
These quotations are f. o. b. Valley furnaces, freight to Pittsburg being $1.00, until the advance that is to occur next week.

LOOKING TO SOUTH PACIFIC

White Men Planning Complete Possession of Fertile Islands of That Far-Away Ocean.

With Europe a seething mass of unrest and discontent and uncertainty, your Britisher is looking to the islands of the South Pacific, already owned by the empire, as the next place to go—and to exploit, to use the expression of a lot of people who do not know the meaning of the word. Already corporations are being formed to colonize the islands, and beautiful word pictures of the advantages of a residence upon them are being painted.

The truth is, for some years the white man has been gradually getting a foothold in the region. The delighful pictures which are sent of the natives, gives a little idea of what is really to be seen in the country. They are not the wild, naked people roaming at large, eating each other and the missionaries. Rubber plantations, coconut groves, phosphate mines and other industries are operated by Europeans. And schools and churches are everywhere on every island, with the back of the head of the automobile heard in the shade of the palm.
The white man will not reach the end of his road until there is no more country to be settled up, and there are still vast areas to be brought under his domain. In Africa, and upon the islands of the sea, he is setting his foot and clearing up the jungles and conquering the posts and becoming acclimated. But the end is not yet; there is still much to be done, and the chances are that the next few years will see an exodus to these far-away places where a beginning has already been made.—Columbus Dispatch.

MADE HIT WITH RECITATION

Prince's Speech Consisted of Verses
From the Koran, but Audience Didn't Know It.

It is interesting to recall that during the recent European tour of Prince Faisal of the new kingdom of Syria, his memory of the Koranic verses stood him in good stead. In London, at a dinner in the Guildhall, the prince, who was the guest of honor, and who knew little French and less English, was called upon to reply to the toast of his health. Beside him sat his friend and mentor, Colonel Lawrence, Oxford professor and oriental scholar, to whom he whispered as he rose to acknowledge the lord mayor's speech.
Colonel Lawrence nodded his assent, and the prince addressed his audience in flowing Arabic periods, winning appreciation and applause.

When the toast of honor had resounded his seat, Colonel Lawrence, as his interpreter, rose to express in English the prince's sentiments of gratitude for his reception, and to voice his devotion to the principles of democracy and allied solidarity. It was not until many days and gone by that Colonel Lawrence allowed it to be known among his friends that what the prince had whispered to him was:
"I'll recite the verses from the Koran about the cow."

Country's Motive Energy.
The gauge of a nation's industrial might is the amount of motive energy which it can command for the manufacture of goods, and the essential contributory activities. We have maintained our supremacy in manufactured output very largely because of the vast amount of power which we could call into service. Robert G. Sherratt wrote in the Scientific American, Modern nations expend far more energy than the combined muscular ability of their population, and boasts of burden. The margin is covered by the employment of mechanical energy in the form of power.
To accomplish the work done annually in the United States would require the labor of 3,000,000,000 hard-working slaves. The use of power gives to each man, woman and child in this country the service equivalent of thirty servants.

A Remedy.
"See here, Brigat, thy dishes you've put on the table of late have been possively dirty. Something's got to be done about it."
"Three for ye, m'lord. If ye only had red-colored ones, they wouldn't show the dirt at all."

The Cause of Poverty.
Little Arthur—Father, why are so many people poor?
Father—Because they like to pretend that they can afford the things they can't afford, my boy.—London
